Local Events.

Whatever happens, don't forget the Institute on the 30th. Sheriff Milling after a long illness is again in his office to attend to business. R. M. Huey has just opened two barrels choice New Orleans Molasses. Bring the cash.

The first fruit of the gin reported this season is a couple of fingers from the gin of Nicholson at Woodward.

School Commissioner Duke is at home quite sick, and we are informed will not be able to be at his office for several days.

Joe Fraser, a colored man, let his foot remain too long on the railroad at the freight depot on Saturday and got it badly mashed by the car wheel.

Mr. C. H. Scruggs left town on last Friday, and on his way home received some very painful bruises. Mr. Scruggs says he is unable to tell how it occurred.

Young ladies of the town will give a supper on Thursday evening at the residence of Mr. J. S. McCright.

Death of Dr. L. C. Mackey.—Dr. L. C. Mackey, of Blackstock, died Wednesday morning. He had been confined to his room some time with a severe cold. Dr. Mackey moved to Blackstock about two years ago from North Carolina, and has been a practicing physician since that date. He was a native of North Carolina, and at the same time served as a soldier in the Confederate army.

His remains were taken to his former home in North Carolina the day of his death.

Gin House Destroyed.—Wade Herndon, a colored man, had his gin-house destroyed by fire on last Friday evening. Four bales of cotton, 400 pounds of seed cotton and some cotton seed were burned with the house. It is presumed that while the cotton was being picked, fire from a pipe fell into one of the baskets and was conveyed to the gin-house. Wade is one of the most prosperous colored citizens in the County. We sympathize with him and hope that he will not be seriously encumbered by his misfortune.

Col. Rion's Law Library.—We are pleased to learn that Mrs. Mary C. Rion is having many bids on the books of this valuable library. During the past week Mrs. Rion has disposed of quite a number.

The progressive firm of Dudley & Newton, Bennett'sville, S. C., ordered 125 law books this week.

Solicitor J. E. McDonald has added quite a number of fine text books to the library of the firm of McDonald & Douglas.

J. Wilson Hanahan, the junior member of Sanders, Cathcart & Hanahan has added some valuable Equity books to his library.

The lawyers so long enjoyed this comprehensive library that they do not wish to see it lost to the bar here.

Visiting in Town.

From the County: Mrs. Daniel Hall, Mrs. Susie Robertson and Miss Mary Rowe.

From New York City: Mr. James Chapman, Mr. Houston and Dr. Pope.

From Washington, D. C.: Mrs. Patton.

From Spartanburg: Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. McLaughlin, Dr. E. C. Fleming, Captain and Mrs. Means.

From Union: Capt. A. F. Foster and family.

From Augusta: Dr. D. E. McMaster and Capt. J. C. McMaster.

From Waynesboro, Ga.: Dr. H. B. McMaster.

From Columbia: Col. F. W. McMaster and James Woodrow, Jr.

Death of Dr. T. T. Robertson.—Dr. T. T. Robertson died at his home on last Tuesday afternoon a few minutes before 4 o'clock. He has been troubled with heart disease for some time. His death, therefore, was not unexpected. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. J. G. Glass at the Episcopal Church, at 4 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. There were present old and young as a token of the high esteem in which he was held by the people. Out of respect to the memory of the deceased, most of the stores closed as the funeral procession moved through main street.

The following were the pallbearers: Senior: Dr. J. R. McMaster, Dr. W. E. Aiken, Dr. R. B. Hanahan, H. L. Elliott, S. Wolfe. Junior: Capt. H. A. Gaillard, DuBois Eggleston, J. G. McCants, H. N. Obar, J. Q. Davis, J. N. Center.

The Verdict Unanimous.

W. D. Sutt, Druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitter as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism of 10 years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Delville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years' experience, is Electric Bitter. Thousands of others have added to my testimony, that it is guaranteed to cure Rheumatism, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Headache, Stomach and Bowel Disorders, and all other ailments of the Liver, Kidneys and Blood. Only half a dollar a bottle at McMaster, Brice & Ketchin's Drug Store."

While the Editor of THE NEWS AND HERALD was perambulating homeward on Thursday, he met with a most exciting adventure. Silas Paulding and his ox car were coming down main street, the docile ox became frightened at the noise and hubbub made by the freight train and ran away. The aforesaid Editor being in the line of his flight, thought the frightened beast had some inclination to toss the representative of the press in the air. It is said that the Bohemian did not wait the encounter; deeming discretion the better part of valor, took to his heels, and fairly distanced his pursuer in a few seconds. He has confessed that all the time he was pondering over a double lead editorial, but when he saw the ox armed with a cart and a negro, it all vanished.

The executive committee anticipates a full attendance and a large display of exhibits at the Farmers' Institute on the 30th October.

Death.—The sad intelligence reached on Saturday morning of the sudden death of Mrs. Moses Clarke. Mrs. Clarke died from heart failure Saturday. She leaves her husband and two children to mourn her untimely death.

Alliance Notice.—The business agents of the Sub-Alliances are notified to attend a meeting to be held in Winnsboro on Monday, October 28. Important business will be transacted. All are requested to attend.

R. A. MEARES, Chairman. J. C. DOUGLASS, Secretary.

Children Enjoy.

The pleasant flavor, gentle action and soothing effects of Syrup of Figs, when in need of a laxative and if the father or mother be constipated or bilious the most gratifying results follow its use, so that it is the best family remedy known and every family should have a bottle.

The County Alliance.—The County Alliance is called to meet in Winnsboro on Friday, 25th inst., at 11 o'clock a. m. In pursuance of the plan adopted by the State Alliance for establishing a Business Exchange, I call the sub-trustee stockholders to meet at the same time for the purpose of organizing and electing a County Trustee Stockholder.

T. S. BURKE, Pres. Co. Alliance.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—No eatable is relished more at this season of the year than the oyster, especially when prepared by a good caterer. There, too, when brandy is needed, the price, genuine is wanted. Mr. Habicht says he has these things.

The Wagon Company announces this morning a few "ice stick jobs very close." Also that they have the nicest and prettiest buggy ever offered here. They wonder why they sell so many $10.00 buggies and invite inspection of their wagons, in which they give "more wagon for less money than any of them." If you want a vehicle it will pay you to read their advertisement.

D. A. Hendrix announces this morning that he is going to quit business, and will commence his closing out sale on October 24th. He has other things in his advertisement which call for a close inspection. Read it.

Down, down, down, says H. Landecker. Down with what? you ask. The best way to find out is to read his advertisement.

D. Landecker wants to know if you are studying your interest this fall. They have both trimmed hats and trimmed prices. The one for the head and the other for the pocket. Read for yourself what they say.

A CAROLINIAN'S VIEW OF THE RACES.—Mr. J. D. McCarty has just returned from the Old Dominion, where he has been luxuriating in the genuine hospitalities for which Virginia is justly celebrated. He says that the politics of the State are at the highest pitch. Billy Mahone and McKinney are making things lively. It is well for McKinney and Virginia that Mr. McCarty happened in those parts, as he informed us that he imparted as a great secret the way, the happy way, that Fairfield managed political matters in 1870—while we all know needs no commendation.

Mr. McCarty, in his various peregrinations about the State, paused a short time and visited (as all Carolinians should do) the tombs of Gen. Lee and his great lieutenant Jackson. The room which Gen. Lee occupied as his office while president of the Washington and Lee University he tells us remains just as the last time that Gen. Lee used it. Such veneration is paid to his memory, that no hand has touched it since he died.

Mr. McCarty is especially delighted with the performance of Crown Prince, whose record as a racer has not diminished, but on the contrary has been increased. Crown Prince lost not a single race on this campaign, winning every time he was entered.

PERSONAL.—Mrs. W. A. Romyedy and her children have gone to Rock Hill, which in the future will be their home. Mr. Romyedy left several months ago. We regret very much to lose them, and hope that they will be pleased with their new home.

Mr. J. B. Turner has gone to the Piedmont Exposition with some of his fine cows. Mr. Turner has taken a great many premiums on his cattle, and we feel sure Fairfield will be well represented by the cattle he exhibits in Atlanta this year. He was accompanied by Mr. R. Y. Turner.

Rev. J. R. McAlpine and wife, of Hunterville, N. C., are among the visitors in town.

Miss Jennie Lee McMaster, of Columbia, arrived on Friday and will make a short stay.

Mrs. Fleming Brown, of Johnston, is with friends and relatives.

The Rev. Horace Rabb is visiting friends and relatives in town. He will remain for a few days.

Dr. David Presley D. D., of Tennessee, is on a visit to Mr. W. H. Flemming. He expects to remain several days and will preach at the Associate Reform Church on Sunday morning.

Miss Mary Flemming, of Beaufort, is visiting friends and relatives in town.

Miss Mamie McMaster, of Columbia, will make a short stay in the Boro.

Miss Ellen Nicholson, of Ridge Spring, is visiting in town.

Mrs. M. W. Brown, formerly of this place, now of Johnston, Edgefield County, will remain a few days with her friends and relatives.

Mrs. J. B. Douglass, of Florida, returned home Tuesday, after a visit to her mother, Mrs. Hicklin, at Blackstock, who has been quite ill.

Mrs. Sallie Johnston, after a long visit to Rocky Mount and Chester, came home Wednesday.

Mr. Milton Elliott, of Beaufort, who has been in this place for several days, left for home on Tuesday.

Mr. J. H. Cathcart, Jr., of Adgers, was seen on our streets Wednesday. We are glad to see he has recovered from a spell of fever.

Mr. James A. McCrorey, of Gladden's Grove, one of the oldest citizens in the county, is spending a while with his relatives.

Mr. Fleming Brown, of Johnston, is in town.

Mr. Max. Sugenheimer will spend several days at the Atlanta Exposition.

Miss Nellie Davis came up from Ridgeway on Monday to attend the dance.

Mr. A. M. Withers returned to Columbia on Monday morning.

Mrs. James Woodrow is visiting in town.

Mrs. Elliott E. Kirby, of Kershaw, is visiting Mrs. L. C. Gaillard.

A. M. Black, of Columbia, was in town Monday.

Rev. J. W. Perry, after preaching a series of interesting sermons at the Baptist Church, left on Monday to attend the Western North Carolina Baptist Convention.

Rev. G. W. Gardner, of Chester, attended the Baptist meeting one day and night last week.

A COMPLETE ARRANGEMENT.

One hundred acres of the ginney at the Winnsboro Oil and Fertilizer Company's yard is the completeness of the entire ginning outfit. For the benefit of those who have not had an opportunity to visit the place we will give a brief description of the entire plant of operation.

The ginhouse is situated eighty feet from the cotton house, for a safe fire limit; so that the chances to burn the seed cotton stored over night in the cotton-house are not very probable. All seed cotton is kept away from the gin-house until ready to gin and only conveyed to the gin-house as it is being ginned. The storehouse has six stalls on each side and is capable of holding twenty or twenty-five bales of cotton. This cotton is conveyed to the gin-house by means of an elevator which is constructed of iron piping nine inches in diameter and has a fan at the end of it which creates a draft sufficient to draw the cotton first into one gin and then into the other is placed above and between the gins. It works automatically, thus avoiding any handling of cotton at all. Just under the gin is placed a screw conveyor, similar in appearance to a big auger, which conveys the seed from the gin-house to the seed-house which are eighty feet apart.

In the event a customer does not care to sell his seed to the company, a slip drawer is pulled open and the seed runs down a trough into the wagon, and if the party should not happen to have his wagon at the yard the seed is deposited on a platform which is higher than the wagon and the seed can be readily shoveled into the wagon.

The feature of the whole business is the taking of the cotton from the wagon. It is amazing to a high degree to witness the convenience and listen to the expressions of the "brother in black" as he stands by and lets the white man unload his cotton, so to speak. Unloading seed cotton which has been well tramped in a wagon body is not very attractive sport for anyone, and when Cuffy can get his wagon unloaded and his seed put in his wagon and don't have to handle it at all, and only one dollar a bale, it makes his countenance beam.

We could elaborate more fully the modes operandi of running at this place, but we have given a crude idea and will simply say that it will fully repay anyone to go and look for himself.

The gins used are the Elliott make, put up here in Winnsboro by the Elliott Gin Manufacturing Company—26 sixty saw gins—and are giving complete satisfaction to the customers.

The elevator is the Siler patent, made by Dudley E. Jones & Co., of Little Rock, Ark.

The elevator, engine, shafting and press were bought of Mr. W. J. Elliott, who deals in machinery, and were erected and started by him.

The oil mill machinery is being put in the house and will soon be erected. Winnsboro has made a start; let us keep it up.

Q. D. WILLIFORD & CO.

SOLICITOR McDONALD ANSWERS.

In the issue of the NEWS AND HERALD of the 15th instant were published to me the following questions concerning the Ben Calvin bigamy case, viz:

1. Has said case been four times before the grand jury?

2. In the hands of two Trial Justices and the Solicitor?

3. Has the Solicitor ever held a warrant for these parties?

4. Has he ever had names of witnesses?

5. Why has not the law taken hold of this case?

With the indulgence and permission of the editor of THE NEWS AND HERALD I will answer these questions as fully and as frankly as they are asked—perhaps a little more fully.

As a preliminary observation, I will state that I am not, and never expect to be, either a public or a private detective; but am ready at all times and under all circumstances to do my whole duty both as the prosecuting officer of this Circuit and as a private citizen. I make this statement in view of the implied (though I hope not intended) reflection contained in some of these queries.

Now as to the questions.

In answer to the first I say, that so far as my knowledge extends, the case mentioned has never been before the grand jury except on one occasion, and never, upon any occasion, through my hands as a prosecuting officer.
